This poster includes a few of the mammals, birds, and reptiles of southern Africa that are listed on the IUCN Red List.

The common threats that could affect species include human population expansion, habitat loss, poaching, hunting, climate change, human-wildlife conflict, invasive species and pollution.

- Critically endangered (CR): Facing a very high risk of extinction in the wild
- Endangered (EN): Likely to become extinct
- Vulnerable (VU): Likely to become endangered unless the circumstances threatening its survival improve
- Extinct (EX): When there are no more of a species left. These have not been included on this poster

This poster focuses on a few of the mammals, birds, and reptiles of southern Africa that are listed on the IUCN Red List. It investigates different threats and ways in which species could be harmed, become endangered or extinct, with the aim of promoting the conservation of these species.