

Where are they now?

Nozipho Mthembu

Nozipho is from Kwamqobela village, and back in 2008 she participated on a Children in the Wilderness (CITW) camp at Rocktail Bay Lodge. She went on to matriculate at Langlihle High School in 2014.

She has been attending part time courses at the nearby town of Manguzi and earlier this year she attended the CITW Volunteer Eco-Mentor training held at her old primary school.

She is committed to giving back in her community and recently she helped CITW paint and refurbish the primary school library, principal's office and staff room. She has been teaching children at her old primary school how to cultivate seeds and has lovely trees growing in the little school nursery. Her interest is Nature Conservation and we hope to be able to get her into further studies in the area of Nature Conservation.
